1. Amor y odio

Pense que yo sabria ocultar la pena mia Que por estar en lo profundo no alcanzara á ver el mundo este amor callado que un majo malvado en mi alma encendio.

Y no fué asi porque el vislumbró el pesar oculto en mi pero fué en vano que vislumbrara pues el villano mostroso ajeno de que le amara.
Y esta es la peno que sufró ahora sentir mi alma llena de amor por quien me olvida sin que una luz allentadora surja en las sombras de mi vida.

2. El majo discreto

Dicen que mi majo es feo Es posible que si que lo sea Que amor es deseo Que ciega y marea La tiempo que sé quien á mano vê.

Mas sino es mi majo un hombre que por lindo descuelle ya sombre En cambio es discreto Y guarda un secreto que yo posé en él sabiendo que es fiel.

Cual es el secreto que el majo guarda?
Seria indiscreto contarlo yo.
No poco trabajo Costara saber secretos de un majo con una mujer.
Nació en Lavapies*
Eh! Eh! Es un majo
Un majo es.

*A suburb of Madrid.

3. El majo timido

Llega á mi reja y me mira por la noche un majo que en cuanto me ve y suspira se va calló abajo Ay! que tío mas tardio Sia si se pasa la vida Estoy divertida.

4. El mirar de la maja

Porqué es en mis ojos tan hondo el mirar?
que á fin de cortar desdenes y enojos los suelo en tornar Que fuego dentro llevarán los clavo en mi amor sonorojo me dan.

Por eso el chispero á quien mi alma di al verse ante mi me tira el sombrero y dice me así Mi maja! no me miras más que tus ojos rayos son y ardiendo en pasion la muerte me dan.

1. Love and hate

I thought I should know how to hide my pain, that being so deep, it would not see the light of day; this silent love that a wicked lover has kindled in my soul.

But it wasn't so; it revealed itself, that pain hidden in me. But it was in vain that it shone forth, because the villain refused to let himself be loved. And this is the pain that I now suffer: feeling my soul full of love for someone who has forgotten me, without a single comforting light amidst the shadows of my life.

2. The discreet lover

They say that my suitor is ugly and that may be so, for love is a desire that makes one dizzy and blind.

And what if my suitor is not remarkably handsome?
For on the other hand, he is discreet; and he keeps the secret that I have confided in him, knowing him to be faithful.

What is the secret that he keeps? It would be indiscreet of me to tell you. It won't be difficult for you to guess the secret that a young man and a young woman keep. He was born in Lavapies.*
Well, well; he's a man; he's a man!

3. The timid suitor

At night, a young man comes to my window and looks at me. But the moment he sees me, he sighs and goes away. Ay; what a slow-coach! If that's how he's going to spend his life, I shall be very amused.

4. The young woman's glance

Why is it that I veil my eyes? In order to avoid slights and annoyances, I usually lower them. They have so much fire within them that if I looked at my love, I should have to blush.

For this, the one to whom I have given my soul, when he finds himself in my presence, he tugs at my hat and says: "My love, don't look at me - your eyes are like lightning, and, burning with passion, they destroy me."

5. El tra la la y el punteado

Es en balde majo mio que sigas hablando porque hay cosas que contesto yo siempre cantando Tra la la.

Por mes que pregantes tanto
Tra la la
En mi no causas que branto Ni yo he de salir de mi canto
Tra la la!

6. La maja dolorosa (No. 2)

Ay majo de mi vida
No no tu no has muerto Aca so yo existiese si fuera eso cierto?
Quiere loca
besar tu boca!
Quiero segura
Gozar mas de tu ventura
Ay!

Mas Ay! deliro sueño mi majo no existe en torno mio el mundo Lloroso esta y triste
A mi duelo
No hallo consuelo!
Más muerto y frio Siempre el majo será mio
Ay!

POEMA EN FORMA DE CANCIONES

Texts: Ramon de Campoamor

5. The tra-la-la and the guitar solo

It's in vain, my dear, that you continue speaking because there are certain things which I always answer with a song. Tra la la!

And for all that you persist in asking, Tra la la, you won't make me change nor stop my singing. Tra la la.

6. The grief-stricken young woman

Ay; love of my life. No, no, you aren't dead! Could I go on living if it were true that you have died? I long to kiss your mouth. I want to share and enjoy the future with you.

Ay; I am delirious; I am dreaming. My lover no longer exists. All round me the world is sad and full of tears.
My grief finds no solace. Cold and dead my lover will always be.

1. Dedicatoria (Piano solo)

2. Nunca olvida . . .

Ya que este mundo abandono antes de dar cuenta a Dios aqui para entre los dos mi confesión te dire.

Con toda el alma perdonó hasta a los que siempre he dado ¡A ti que tanto te he amado nunca te perdonaré!

3. Cantares

Ay!
Mas cerca de mi te siento cuando más huyo de ti, Pues tu imagen es en mi sombra de mi pensamiento

Ay!
Vuélvemelo a decir pues embelesando ayer te escuchaba sin oír y te miraba sin ver.
Ay!

4. Los dos miedos

Al comenzar la noche de aquel dia ella lejos de mi, ¿Porqué te acercas tanto? me decia ¡Tengo miedo de ti!

Y despues que la noche hubo pasado dijo, cerca de mi: ¿Porqué te alejas tanto de mi lado?
¡Tengo miedo sin ti!

5. Las locas por amor

Te amaré diosa Venus si prefieres que te ame mucho tiempo y con cordura, Y respondió la diosa de Citeres Prefiero como todas las mujeres que me amen poco tiempo con locura Te amaré diosa Venus, te amare.

POEM IN THE FORM OF POPULAR SONGS

Translations by Eryl Baño © 1975

1. Dedication (Piano solo)

2. Never forget . . .

Now that I have to leave this world, before I render my account to God, here, between the two of us, I will make my confession.

With all my soul, I forgive even those to whom I have always given. But you, whom I have loved so much, I will never forgive.

3. Folk-song

Ah!
The more I flee from you, the more I feel you near to me, because your image is in me, like the shadow of my thinking.

Ah!
Say it to me again, because last night, enraptured, I listened without hearing and looked at you without seeing.

4. The two fears

When that night began, far from me, she said: "Why do you draw so close? I'm frightened of you!"

And when the night had passed, close to me, she said:
"Why do you draw away? I'm frightened without you!"

5. The women mad for love

I will love you, goddess Venus, if you so desire; I will love you wisely, and for a long, long time. But the Cytherean goddess replied: "Like all women, I would prefer you to love me madly." For a little while, I will love you, Goddess Venus, I will love you."

TROIS MELODIES
Texts: Theophile Gautier

1. Les Colombes

Sur le coteau, là bas où sont les tombes, Un beau palmier, comme un panache vert Dresse sa tête, où le soir les colombes Viennent nicher et se mettre à couvert

Mais le matin elles quittent les branches Comme un collier qui s'égrène, on les voit S'éparpiller dans l'air bleu, toutes blanches, Et se poser plus loin sur quelque toit.

Mon âme est l'arbre où tous les soirs, comme elles De blancs essaims de folles visions Tombent des cieux, en palpitant des ailes, Pour s'envoler dès les premiers rayons.

2. Chinoiserie

Ce n'est pas vous, non, madame, que j'aime, Ni vous non plus, Juliette, ni vous Ophélia, ni Béatrix, ni même Laure la blonde, avec ses grands yeux doux.

Celle que j'aime à présent, est en Chine; Elle demeure avec ses vieux parents, Dans une tour de porcelaine fine,
Au fleuve Jaune, où sont les cormorans.

Elle a des yeux retroussés vers les tempes, Un pied petit à tenir dans la main,
Le teint plus clair que le cuivre des lampes, Les ongles longs et rougis de carmin.

Par son treillis elle passe sa tête, Que l'hirondelle en volant vient toucher, Et, chaque soir, aussi bien qu'un poète, Chante le saule et la fleur du pêcher.

3. Séguidille

Un jupon serré sur les hanches, Un peigne énorme à son chignon, Jambe nerveuse et pied mignon, Oeil de feu, teint pâle et dents blanches;
Alzà! Olà! Voilà
La véritable manola.

Gestes hardis, libre parole, Sel et piment à pleine main,
Oubli parfait du lendemain, Amour fantasque et grâce folle;
Alzà! Olà! Voilà
La véritable manola.

Chanter, danser aux castagnettes, Et, dans les courses de taureaux, Juger les coups des toreros Tout en fumant des cigarettes;
Alzà! Olà! Voilà
La véritable manola.

THREE SONGS Translations by James Day © 1975

1. The Doves

On the hillside, down below where the tombs lie, a fine palm tree, like a green plume, raises its crown, where the doves come to roost and shelter in the evenings.

But in the mornings, they leave the branches, as if they were a necklace scattering into beads; one sees them disperse into the blue air, completely white, and land on some more distant roof.

My soul is the tree where, every evening, like them, white swarms of extravagant visions fall from the skies with fluttering wings, to fly off at the first light.

2. Chinoiserie

No, it is not you, madame, whom I love, nor you either, Juliet, nor you, Ophelia, nor Beatrice, nor even the fair Laura, with her huge soft eyes.

My current love is in China; she lives with her old parents in a fine porcelain tower close to the Yellow River where the cormorants are.

She has eyes that slant backwards towards her temples, feet tiny enough to hold in your hand, a complexion clearer than the copper of a lamp, and long nails reddened with carmine.

She pushes her head through her trellis that the swallow skims over in flight; and every evening, the weeping willow and the peach-blossom sing as well as any poet.

3. Seguidilla

Her skirt clinging to her hips and an enormous comb in her chignon, sinewy legs and dainty feet, an eye of fire, pale complexion and white teeth, Alza! Olà! look at her - a true Madrid street-girl.

Bold of gesture, free of speech, a real handful of salt and peppercorn, completely unaware of the morrow; fantastic love and extravagant grace, Alza! Olà! Look at her - a true Madrid street-girl.

Singing, dancing to the castanets and assessing the bullfighters' thrusts as the bulls charge, smoking cigarettes as she does so, Alza! Olà! Look at her - a true Madrid street-girl.

SEVEN SPANISH POPULAR SONGS
Translations by Eryl Baño © 1975

1. El paño moruno

Al paño moruno fino en la tienda Una mancha le cayó
Por menos precio se vende Porque perdió su valor
Ay!

2. Seguidilla murciana

Cualquiera que el tejado Tenga de vidrio
No debe tirar piedras Al del vecino.
Arreros somos
Puede que en el camino
Nos encontremos.

Por tu mucha inconstancia Yo te comparo
Con peseta que corre
De mano en mano
Que al fin se borra
Y creyéndola falsa Nadie le toma.

3. Asturiana

Por ver si me consolaba Arrimé a un pino verde

Por ver me llorar, lloraba.
Y el pino, como era verde

4. Jota

Dicen que no nos queremos Porque no nos ven hablar;
A tu corazón y al mío Se lo pueden preguntar

Ya me despidió de tí De tu casa y tu ventana
Y aunque no quiera tu madre Adiós, niña, hasta mañana.

5. Nana

Duermete, niño, duerme, Duerme, mi alma.
Duermete, lucerito de la mañana Nanita, nana.

6. Canción

Por tradidores, tus ojos Voy a enterrar los;
No sabes lo que cuesta
"Del aire" Niña, el mirarlos
"Madre á la orilla."

Dicen que no me quieres Ya me has querido.
Váyase lo ganado
"Del aire." Por lo perdido
"Madre á la orilla."

7. Polo

Ay!
Guardo una pena en mi pecho Que á nadie se la diré.
Malhaya el amor
Y quien me lo dio a entender
Ay!

1. The Moroccan cloth

The fine Moroccan cloth in the shop was stained. They sold it at a lower price because it had lost its value.
Ah!

2. Murcian Seguidilla

He who has a glass roof on his house shouldn't throw stones at his neighbour's roof. We are herdsmen; perhaps we shall meet on the road. Because of your great fickleness, I compare you to a peseta, which, passing from hand to hand, becomes worn, and, believing it to be forged, no-one will accept it.

3. Asturian woman

To see if I could console myself, I leaned on a green pine-tree.

To see myself cry, I cried; and the tree, it was so green!

4. Jota

They say that we don't love one another, because they don't see us talking to one another. They should ask your heart and mine!

Now I say goodbye to you, to your house and to your window; and, although your mother disapproves, Goodbye, darling, until tomorrow.

5. Lullaby

Sleep, little boy, sleep. Sleep, my soul's delight.
Sleep, little morning star. Lulla, lullay.

6. Song

For their treachery, I shall bury your eyes. You don't know how hard it is to look at them, "mother on the verge of air."

They say that you don't love me. But you have loved me. What's past is past, "mother on the verge of air."

7. Polo

Ay!
I hide an ache in my heart that I will tell to no-one.
Cursed be love and he that made me understand it.
